

Driven Quartet Biography

Based out of Charlotte NC, Driven isn't new to Southern Gospel Music. Collectively, this group of young men has been singing professionally for over 20 years. Their resumes include such groups as Danny Funderburk and Mercy's Way, The Anchormen and Lumber River but in 2006 this group of young men through prayer, stepped out on faith and commenced their new full time career, heeding to the call on their lives to present the Gospel through music, these four gentlemen created Driven Ministries.

The name "Driven" derives strictly from the drive these men have to continue what God has called them to do, seek the lost and uplift the hurting. Owner and Lead singer Jason Funderburk states, "All four members of Driven possess a servant's heart and the bond we have on and off the platform is of a brotherly kinship, I know God has put us together for a reason and that reason is to continue a work for Him."

This group has tight harmony and in a concert setting you can be prepared to laugh, cry, shout and just forget about those problems that constantly come our way. They are filled with energy and enthusiasm and are accepted by a wide variety of audiences. Their song selection will have a current sound but will always showcase the old favorites everyone enjoys at southern gospel concerts. This group of young men has performed in churches, arenas, fairs, cruises and auditoriums all across the United States, Canada, and abroad. Once you have the opportunity to meet and hear Driven, they will surely become one on your favorite quartets.
